“ I’m a road warrior—my job takes me on the road several times a week. I throw my eBook in the car and keep it there. On a recent trip to a little town in Georgia, I used the dial-up modem to get a book without even leaving my room. My eBook has become a trusted friend that transports me around the world and the universe through the wonder of reading and a great technology. ”

—James Costello, Gainesville, Florida

“ I live with my eBook, reading during traffic jams, in waiting rooms, at work, in the hospital, on summer trips throughout Alaska. My eBook is tougher than duct tape, and that says a lot from an Alaskan. ”

—Karen Laubenstein, Anchorage, Alaska

“ I love the feeling of the eBook in my hands and the finely designed controls all comfortably positioned for effortless use. I love that I can carry around so many books at once in such a compact, stylish, and powerful package to suit any of my reading moods. Finally, I confess that I love how I feel taking my eBook to bed—like a child under the covers with midnight candy, I can read my latest book and don’t even need a flashlight. ”

—Laurie Harnick, London, Ontario, Canada
